What Is the Georgia Power Company Really Worth to Georgia?

1. The Georgia Power Company is Georgia's largest taxpayer. It paid more than $2,000,000 in taxes for 1931. More than $500,000 of this went for the support of the schools of Georgia.

2. The Georgia Power Company has an annual payroll of more than $6,000,000. Nearly 4,000 employes share in it. Every penny of it is paid to Georgians. Practically every penny of it is spent in Georgia.

3. The Georgia Power Company is one of Georgia's biggest builders. This year it is spending nearly $2,000,000 on new construction projects. In ordinary years, it spends several times $2,000,000 on new con-

4. The Georgia Power Company is one of the largest customers of Georgia merchants and dealers. Its purchases of materials and supplies in Georgia this year will exceed $3,000,-000, in spite of the present necessity for economy which this Company must practice like everyone else.

5. The Georgia Power Company has more than 8,800 preferred stockholders in Georgia. These Georgians have invested more than $20,000,000 of their personal funds in the Com-

It is literally true that every man, woman and child in Georgia benefits financially from the existence of the Georgia Power Company - either from its tax payments, or its payrolls, or the money its employes spend, or its other business expenditures, or its contributions to charitable, civic, educational and other public funds, or its payment of dividends.

REALLY Matter

YOU are likely to hear almost anything - and frequently you I do - about the Georgia Power Company when political storms are raging. Naturally such statements hurt whether they are true or not - hurt us and, we believe, hurt the state, for they give Georgia a reputation as a place where "corporation baiting" is a popular sport.

Our business success, our very life as a business enterprise, depend upon the good will of the public. So, in the interest of our business, we come before you with these requests.

We ask you, first, to remember that these charges of "extortionate rates" and the like are being made in the midst of a heated political campaign. The business of the candidate is getting himself elected. We are big - therefore we are a big target, easy to shoot at. Before accepting all that you hear or read, we make the simple request that you inform yourself as to THE TRUTH. We welcome it.

We ask you, second, for a continuation of the confidence you have shown in us in the past. We ask it solely on the basis of our business record.

The business duty of this Company is to give GOOD SERVICE AT LOW RATES. The quality of our service is GOOD. No one denies it, not even the candidates. And our rates are LOW. No one can say, truthfully, that the rates of this Company are not low.

Beyond the performance of its business duty, the Georgia Power Company builds, it creates payrolls, it puts the natural resources of Georgia to work, it aids in stimulating business through its pochases and payrolls, it thus aids in making a market for the rarmer's products, it contributes in large measure through its taxes to public education and other activities for the general-welfare.

Throughout its history, the Georgia Power Company has contributed, financially and otherwise, to the success of every movement for the development of Georgia. It has brought in millions of dollars of outside capital for permanent investment in the state. It has aided in bringing many large industries to

The Georgia Power Company is a useful, constructive business, rendering good service at low rates. There is no just complaint against it. It is entitled to the confidence of its customers and the public on the basis of its record.

3. They are LOW from the standpoint of the cost to the public. The average man spends more for tobacco than he spends for electricity for his whole family. 4. They are LOW from the standpoint of the return they yield to the Company - less than half the amount which the courts have held to be a "fair rate of return."

5. They are LOW by comparison with the prices of other things. The average price per kilowatt hour paid by our residential customers (and this average includes all service charges) is approximately 25 per cent LOWER than it was before the World War. But the prices of other things you buy — food, rent, clothing, house furnishings, fuel, etc. — still average approximately 35 per cent HIGHER than in 1913, ccording to the official government Cost of Living statistics.

Overcast during the moments of the totality of the eclipse of the sun, there were only a few breaks in the cloud canopy of the sky during the entire day. About 25 seconds before totality, the remaining thin crescent of the sun became visible through a thin spot in the clouds so that the time of contact between the sun and the moon was sharply observed.

The predicted time of contact for the Island Pond station was 3 hours 26 minutes 8 seconds afternoon, eastern standard time. It was actually observed at 3 hours 26 minutes 18 seconds—10 seconds fate.

The end was predicted at 3 hours 27 minutes 50 seconds.

H. B. (Hell Bent) Edwards grabbed the spotlight in the gubernatorial contest Wednesday when he obtained in Lanier county superior court an order requiring the board of registrars there to compile a list of voters "legally entitled to participate in the democratic primary of September 14."

Edwards obtained his order from Judge W. R. Smith, at Lakeland, and a short time afterwards Judge W. E. Thomas, in Lowndes superior court, signed an order for a hearing as to why the registrars of Brooks county should not restore about 400 names to the voters' list for the coming primary.

After the action in Lanier county, Edwards said that similar action would probably be followed in other counties of the state.

Edwards told Judge Smith that un-

Referring first to Talmadge, Edwards said in his petition:

"That Eugene Talmadge has been proved by the state audit, otherwise known as the 'grafter's bible,' and by investigation of the general assembly of the state, as contained in the Senatte Journal of 1931, to be a grafter and crook who not only grafts and wastes money from the state, but who will and does stoop to the buying and bartering of individual and county unit votes; said Talmadge having will and does stoop to the buying and bartering of individual and county unit votes; said Talmadge having found that Lanier county, run as it is by the practice of corrupt, politics, is fertile soil for his maneuverings and trickery and has set upon it with his horde of employes, paid for by the people, and is padding the voters' lists of said county with ineligible and disqualified people through the wide-open gate left by said executive committee, and by this illegal method is preparing to maneuver, by political chicanery, said county from petitioner; said ringster professional politician, Ed Rivers, having introduced said Talmadge when he spoke in said county and praised him as an honest man in order to mislead the people, when he knew that Talmadge had been proved to be a grafter and a crooked politician by Rivers' former law partner, Senator W. H. Duckworth, and two other senators at the last session of the general assembly of 1931."

Edwards charged that Holder, "as head of the highway department of the state for seven long years," has "been proved to have grafted and bartered for the benefit of himself and his brother Frank and others and in collusion with Thomas W. Hardwick to such extent that only a small part of the money spent by the taxpayers, through the highway board, ever saw a readded."

legal notice of intention to remove their names.

The plaintiffs do not contend that their names should not have been stricken from the voters' list, but they claim that the action of the registrars was not in accordance with the law, therefore they have a right to be restored to the voters' list as kept in the office of the tax collector of Brooks county.

The action was brought by Judge Burton Weston, of Quitman. This court procedure follows close upon the heels of the movement started in Lanier county yesterday by M. B. Edwards, candidate for governor, against the registrars, though it is understood that there is some material difference in the grounds upon which the cases were started.

In his second invasion of north Georgia territory within a week, the veteran congressman, dean of the state delegation in the lower house, was assured by his friends that he would carry every county in the old ninth congressional district, with the possible exception of two. A spirited contest is said to be on between him and his opponent in Lumpkin and White counties in this section, but Mr. Crisp's friends are by no means willing to concede these yet.

Dangerous Business

When will these bargains be paid for? By whom? With what?

TILL CAR OWNERS pay with life and limb for the "bargains" that crowd today's tire racks? Not if they know the truth!

When a struggle for business puts price first, something has to be taken out. Different from almost all other merchandise, when you take quality out of a tire you take out safety-with human life at stake.

When will these "bargains" be paid for? All too soonand tire failures that cripple and kill will fix the final cost.

On a 25 mile-an-hour tire 40, 50 or 60 is dangerous!

"Built to a price", these brands are unsafe at over 25 miles an hour-yet are trusted up to 60 and better by their innocent users.

General—for 16 years—never has had a temptation great enough to swerve it from its policy of building only Top Quality tires. Generals always were worth the difference in price. Today-with the low cost of raw materialsthere is all the more reason for every motorist to demand quality, because the price difference is practically negligible.

General's sales up 17.6 percent -proof that people want quality

Think of this! Full time production. Sales going up. Six months' sales 17.6% ahead of the same period last year. A real testimonial for the value which thinking car owners place upon their safety.

They know the exclusive advantages of General's patented no-breaker-strip construction - full-length plies from bead to bead-blowout-proof and skid-safe protection—the luxurious comfort of 30% less air pressure -and the economy of General's famous big mileage.

THE GENERAL TIRE & RUBBER CO., AKRON, OHIO

The Merciless Toll

152,732 persons killed in only 5 years of automobile accidents. 66,100 killed and injured by cars leaving road.

51,720 killed and injured by skidding.

$2,500,000,000 property loss each year - exceeding total cost of public school education.

That means a cost of $20 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Caution

Be certain to always have your best tires on your front wheels. If a front tire "blows" when you are going 60 you have only 1/44th part of a second to act. Only a flash ... and no one can keep a car headed straight with a flat balloon. At any speed a blowout is too great a risk to take.

I have a young neighbor who comes to call on me occasionally and though he is only five years old he has discovered that it is a good policy to advert to any distinction he may have as regards his person or his possessions. Not that he has developed a passion for distinction, he is far too young for that, but the thought is already in his mind, and he is cultivating it. Today he leads a puppy of questionable origin into the garden, straightens himself and opens the following dialog:

of blood."

"Good blood or bad blood?" I ask banteringly.

"Both, I guess, my daddy didn't tell me what sort of blood, he only said he was full of blood."

Certain it would have required omniscience itself to have answered my question. But it was really beside the point for the young visitor was enjoying the distinction of possessing a dog that was "full of blood" and the quality of it was a matter of indifference to him and to the puppy who was freed from an improvised kennel in a show window and permitted to scamper in the spacious garden of his young master.

The Five Requirements of a Modern Motor Oil:

Least body change with extreme temperature changes. (Keeps Body)

Free fluidity under low temperature conditions. (Winter Fluidity)

Freedom from excessive or hard-to-remove carbon deposits in the cylinders.

(Low Carbon)

Resistance to evaporation losses at high temperatures. (Low Consumption)

Stability of lubrication value over long periods of use. (Long Life)

It makes no difference where an oil comes from-who makes it or sells it. If it does not meet every single one of the five requirements listed above it is not suited to modern high compression engines. Only Essolube meets all five requirements.

to the Bridge player, but if not respected, it will turn around and bring disaster. I'alse-carding as Declarer and false-carding on the defense are two entirely different problems. In the first case, there is no one to fool but the opponents, and you are free to play any card you wish. But if you are playing the defense, it is just as important not to fool your partner as to mislead the Declarer. In short, intelligent false-carding may prove a very valuable way to make the enemy err, but if done unintelligently, it will turn into a boomerang.

There are certain types of false-carding which are generally accepted as good, and which offer a better than-even chance of success. The generally accepted theory behind false-carding is to prevent the opposition from getting an accurate count on your head which would be materially.

Less frequently, false-carding is done to mislead the opponents as to the location of an honor. Fake strength signals come under this category if made when it is known that they cannot cause your partner to make a wrong play. In addition, there are several well-known coups—for instance, dropping the Queen when holding Queen-Ten alone to enable you to make your Ten, or taking a trick with a higher card than necessary and temporarily abandon-ing a tenace position, in order to give the Declarer a false feeling of security, which causes him to play kito

Then, most Declarers, holding the Accking of a suit, will invariably take the Ace on the first round of the suit when the opponents lead it to him, highling they have made a brilliant. thinking they have made a brilliant false-card. There are times when the Ace is the proper play, but there probably an equally large number times when it would be better tacti and better psychology to take the trick with the King. OAK MOUNTAIN SPRINGS, Ga., Aug. 31 .- (By Mail.) On the window of the postoffice at Waverly Hall vesterday I saw a written notice that a baseball game was to be played between the team of Waverly Hall and that of a neighboring

Now, Waverly Hall is not a large town. But it has its baseball team. And so have all the neighboring towns. All of which means that baseball is not coming back in Georgia. It

It is the healthiest sign in years, this revival of the home town teams playing for fun and without any pretense at league organization. One cannot take an automobile ride through this, or any other section of Georgia, without finding the chalked notices on the windows of the town stores that a baseball game is scheduled.

The rivalries are all natural rivalries. On the way down for a vacation at the springs we passed two ball games. They were played on diamonds laid out in old fields. Old, dusty model T's, new cars, wagons and buggies were parked while their occupants saw the game.

It is probably a very fine thing that the small leagues are gone for a while. They had grown out of all proportions. They were a product of the boom years when money was something plentiful and the surplus was used to toss around.

The old "Million-Dollar League" of Georgia started it. Most any youngster out of college could get a man's salary for playing a few ball games each week. And when the boom continued under organized baseball the small leagues paid enormous salaries. They brought in players from the higher classifications in professional baseball. Small towns in Georgia, members of a league, would find their home town nine composed of players from other sections of the country with perhaps just one or two local boys on the squad.

This was not a natural development and it was only natural that it should perish when adversity came. The new situation is the normal one. It is produced by natural rivalries. The home town team is made up of home town boys.

Without any actual organization they have, in reality, a league. Because each locality plays teams in that section. They do not stray far afield. And in the end one team is the champion of its section. But there is no red tape of organization and no salaries to be paid. It is the ideal situation and one which will begin to produce real ball players.

Baseball is back again in Georgia.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

A rather determined effort to discover how Waverly Hall got its name has met with absolute failure. It came, of course, from some gentleman who liked the Waverly novels. But no one seems to know how the name was applied here in south Georgia

A gentleman in the drug store yesterday told me that his father had been a physician there before him. And that his father told him that years and years ago there was very little at Waverly Hall but a log cabin where the stage coach stopped for the night en route from Thomaston to Columbus. But there was no inn called Waverly Hall.

The idea of stage coaches in Georgia rather intrigued me. And so we talked about that for a while. Of the great stages pulling across the muddy roads and taking two days to go about "The name of this town has worried a lot of people," said the gentleman at the drug store. "I just have to tell them what a conductor on the railroad here told a traveling man some years ago. This fellow asked the conductor why this town was called Waverly Hall. 'Because that's it's name,' said the conductor.'

And so I took the hint and departed. But I would like to know who named the town that. It's a beautiful name for a town and Waverly Hall is a beautiful spot.

With the Giants leading, 5 to 4, in the ninth Cuyler connected with a single, scoring Demarce with the run-that sent the game into extra in-nings. Guy Bush was wild in the that sent the game into extra innings. Guy Bush was wild in the three hits gave the Giants four runs.

Cuyler was not through, however, as he produced a home run with two hit a homer to give the Cubs five runs and victory in their half of the weird tenth inning. The five runs crossed the plate after Gibson had

The Giants jumped into an early lead, driving Warneke to the showers with a three-run attack in the first inning. Fitzsimmons was unable to hold the advantage, however, the Cubs scoring two runs in the third, one in the fourth, another in the eighth and the tying run in the ninth. Rell pitched the ninth inning, with Gibson tabing up the job in the tenth. Rain delayed the game in the third inning and the remainder of the game was played on a sloppy field with rain falling most of the time.

Army and Navy Renew Relations

Service Teams Meet Again for Three-Year Period; First Game December 3.

By Edward J. Neil,

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Army and Navy healed a five-year break today in one of the oldest and finest of all inter-collegiate athletic rivalries, and two great service football elevens will battle again December 3 on Franklin field, Philadelphia.

The weakening hostility of the two training academies for Uncle Sam's army and navy, all but swept away in two post-season contests between their football teams for charity in 1930 and 1931, was dissipated entirely today as the superintendents of the two schools met in Philadelphia and

The disputed ground upon which they broke in December of 1927—the three-year eligibility rule for gridiron warriors—was left as it always had been up to the time Navy made it an issue. For three years, at least, each academy will make its own eligibility rules, the principle for which Army held out at the time of the break.

The agreement signed today runs through 1933 and 1934. "Faced with a situation under which post season football games are repeatedly played very late in the year to the detriment of the academic work of both institutions," said the work of both institutions," said the official statement, "the military and naval academies have decided to arnaval academies have decided to ar-range a three-year series of athletic academy may take in the matter."

The statement was signed by Major General William D. Connor, superintendent of the military academy, and Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, head of the naval academy.

Thus the two service schools, under political and public pressure almost from the moment of the break from renewal of a football classic that had grown into the most colorful climax of each football season, buried a dying animosity in the common ground of each school working out its eligibility problems as it saw fit.

Atter that Treitas pitched only seven innings but during this time he served home run balls to Gehringer and Hogsett, his mound rival, and there blasts over the margin of victory.

Gehringer the Tigers second baseman, hammered his over the first inning. Hogsett hit his first homer in the sixth and then with the Tigers trailing by one run in the seventh, the left-hander sent the ball over the fence and drove Desautels home ahead of him.

Army-Navy History On Gridiron.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(P)—The break between Army and Navy De-cember 17, 1927, disrupted an ath-letic relationship on the gridiron be-gun in 1890 and which had extended gun in 1890 and which had extended through 30 contests, the annual climax to America's football season. Navy won that first contest 24 to 0, but over the full 37-year period trailed the gray-clad cadets from West Point 12 victories to 15, Army winning four of the last six contests to sweep away a lead the Middies had built up through the early years of the rivalry. Three contests nose to 1905, 1923 and 1926, were tied. Army won both charitable renewals since the break by scores of 6-0 and 17-7, giving the cadets 17 victories of the 32 contests played.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 31.—One of the feature foursome matches which most of the gallery will trail on the first day of the Walker cup matches here involves Gus Moreland and Charley Seaver on one side against Torrance and De Forest under the British banner.

Moreland is the young Texan who only recently won the western

Hagen Is Beaten In Record Match

Watrous, Smith and Runyan Also Eliminated in Wild Orgy of Extra Hole Play.

By Paul Mickelson,

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 31.—(AP)—The wildest orgy of overtime matches in the history of modern golf shook professional championship play today, tumbling Walter Hagen and Al Watrous out of the title drive after dramatic, record-breaking struggles.

The first collegiate football will officially soar into Georgia air this afternoon as the Oglethorpe Petrels usher in the state's pre-season preparatory work.

Hagen, gunning for his sixth professional crown, fell after a stirring battle that did not end until the 43d green, where his stubborn rival, Johnny Golden, of Noroton, Conn., rolled in a 10-foot putt for a birdie four. Watrous was eliminated by Wee Bobby Cruickshank, of New York, Rudy Shouse, a junior with experience, will be used at center. Captain John Patrick, Marion Whaley and Chandler, a sophomore, are the outstanding guard prospects, with Dan Kenzie, Wayne Pickard and Don Aderhold leading tackle aspirants.

Despite his heavy losses, Coach Robertson is conceded to have prospects of a sunny nature not totally eclipsed by the graduation moon.

Sun and Water

HAIR

DEWARE, you sun-worshipers! The same baking sun that sends you out on the beach can take the life right out of your hair.

It dries out the natural oils from your scalp, makes your hair brittle, lifeless and unkempt.

So do what so many sportsmen do: give your head a good 60-Second Workout with Vitalis a little oftener in the summer. Rub Vitalis's pure vegetable oils well into your scalp before you go out in the sun.

That's the way to rouse the lazy circulation and restore the oils your hair must have. That's the way to get rid of loose dandruff, with its threat of thinning hair. That's the way to keep your hair lustrous and alive-without a hint of "patentleather" look-and to keep it always in place.

Don't let sun and water ruin your hair! Start your 60-Second Workouts with Vitalis today!

RALLY NEAR CLOSE

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(P)—The curb market today ended the month with a continuation of the reaction which swept over the list yesterday, but prices had a fairly brisk recovery from the day's lowest prices.

Net changes for the day were irregularly lower, but prices of most leading issues confined their losses to narrow limits. Sales totaled 560,000 shares, or about 140,000 less than yesterday.

Electric Bond & Share closed at 39 1-2, off 1-2, net. Likewise, American Superpower snapped back to 71-2, off 7-8 point, after yielding to below 7.

The utilities as a group improved after publication of weekly electricity production figures, which showed a slight increase, the first to be recorded for the week since 1929.

Oil stocks continued to sag. Standal old Indiana, Standard of Ohio and Gulf were off from a fraction to more than a point. Humble broke 3 points, The industrials were mixed.

OVER GALLAGHER

By Jimmy Jones.

By Jimmy Jones.

Babe Hunt, the Oklahoma "Gusher," had nothing to smile over, lest alone gush over, last night from a standpoint of the house, but he gave more than ample muscular endeavor for value received in punching out a clear-cut 10-round decision over Marty Gallagher, of Washington, D. C.

The crowd that greeted John S.
Blick's first promotional sally in Atlanta was not one that would clate Mr. Blick or any other promoter, but he looked upon the matter cheerily enough. He announced he would stage another show in about ten days, with Tony Cancelas, of Tampa, as the likely opponent for the winner last night—Hunt.

Mr. Blick added that he expected

Mr. Blick added that he expected to lose money on the first two or three shows but that he also expected to go right ahead and take a few on the chin for the sake of building up the fight game in Atlanta from its present supine status.

The fights were entertaining enough, however, from the opening prelim to the main go. In the latter Hunt employed a left jab effectively

Hunt employed a left jab effectively to puncture Gallagher's guard, crossing with an occasional hard right. He kept that long left continually raking Gallagher's classic map.

Hunt 'pinked' Marty's nose in the first round and had opened a mean looking gash over his left eye in the closing cantos. Gallagher, a former Georgetown University football man, proved a rugged adversary and kept boring in for more. The referee's tally card gave the first five rounds to Hunt, the sixth and eighth to Gallagher, called the ninth even and gave the tenth to Hunt by a shade. This about jibed with sports writers' scores.

It was a better fight than some here which have been put on before much larger crowds.

In the semi-final, Earl Johnson, young Atlanta light-heavy, won his fifth consevutive fight here by taking an eight-round MIN MATCH Taylor, an old rival of his.

This organization—this group of 50 or more of Atlanta's prominent and leading individual grocers—is the culmination of the work of many weeks of Kelley Brothers Co., Atlanta's. leading wholesale grocers, working and patterning the organization similar to the "Volunteer Food Stores" of Chattanooga. In the Tennessee city the leading grocers there, in co-operation with King, Dobbs & Co., large wholesale grocers, began operation in 1929 under the same plan as begins in Atlanta today. In Chattanooga the "Volunteer Food Stores" have been most successful, and in co-operation with Kelley Brothers Co., in Atlanta, those interested can see nothing but success here for the organization.

Fifty Members to Start.

For the present about 50 individual owners of grocery stores have joined in co-operation in the organization of the "Volunteer Food Stores," but this is only a beginning. It is hoped and believed that within the next six months double this number-or even more-will be under the banner of the "Volunteer Food Stores."

"Volunteers" Are Home Folks.

It must be remembered that in the "Volunteer Food Stores" organization the individual owner himself will continue to serve you. He is in no sense under the strain or direction of a "higher-up" organization, where policies are frequently directed from a distant city. He is sipply co-operating with other local grocerymen, and is thereby enabled to serve the public better.

It should also be remembered that every Volunteer grocer is a citizen of your community and is vitally interested and helps to pay for every up

This policy was laid down by the founders of the business and has been carried on successfully by their successors, the present executives of the company.

Charles H.-Kelley, one of the founders, died while visiting in Tampa in 1920. He was president of the company in his 60th year. Born near Palmetto, he came to Atlanta in 1887 and formed the partnership with his brothets, which was to thrive for so many years.

Mr. Kelley found time from his business activities to take part in the civic and religious life of Atlanta. He was an alderman from the second ward, and in 1916 was a candidate for mayor, but retired from the race in favor of Asa G. Candler, who was elected.

As president of the Atlanta Freight Bureau he was considered an autherity on freight rates particularly as they affected food products. He was one of the charter members of the St. John's Methodist church, a steward, and at one time superintendent of the Sunday school.

Kendrick King Kelley, another of the firm's founders, died in Atlanta on August 7, 1930.

He was born in Coweta county in 1866, where he remained until in his teens. Realizing the opportunities in Atlanta, which even then was hitting its business stride, he came here and became connected with the wholesale firm of Kelley Brothers.

Like his brothers, he was a devout member of the Methodist church, where he served as a steward, and he also took an active part in the affairs of the Travelers' Protective Association and the Masons. He was connected with the firm for about 45 years.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

BY ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

The Gambit in Bridge

Devotees of Chess use the word "gambit" to designate a play which involves the deliberate giving up of a pawn for position or to gain time for an attack. Some of the most brilliant games of Chess on record have developed from various forms of the gambit.

In Bridge, the occasion quite frequently arises for the use of similar tactics, and the term "gambit" might appropriately be applied to the play involving the sacrifice of a ranking card in order to achieve the desired result. As John W. Jacobson, of Toronto, Ontario, points out, the recognition of such a situation before it is too late is the mark of a fine player, and the hand below, which was played recently in Toronto, exemplifities a typical Bridge gambit and shows as well a fine application of the most brilliant of all plays, the Vienna Coup. It is quite rare for one hand to afford the opportunity for two such fine coups, and H. P. Fierheller, who held the South hand, is to be complimented upon his handling of a difficult situation. to be complimented upon his handling of a difficult situation.

The bidding, no doubt, was slightly optimistic, in view of South's club holding, yet the Slam try cannot be severely criticized after North's bid of three hearts. East's Double of the bid of six spades was a timely warn-ing of 2 probable spade tricks, and South's switch to notrump was thus clearly indicated. clearly indicated.

The Opening lead was the diamond Knave, and when the Dummy went down, the outlook for 11 tricks was extremely bright, but the twelfth trick appeared very uncertain. Obviously the club suit had to be established and the King allowed to make, as it was self-evident that East held a guard in spades. Mr. Fierheller went to work on this assumption and took

A very well played hand, indeed.

The term "gambit," used in Chess, has also its place in the game of Bridge. A gambit may risk additional loss, but if it is the only method of making the contract, it should be offered.

Dear Miss Chatfield. I am a sorely perplexed man and need advice. Many years ago when I was very young I marired a girl that I never loved. I was too young to know what I was doing and in-nocently enough slipped my neck into a nose that all but choked me to death. After a few years of wretchedness I "stepped out" and sewed wild oafs enough for several crops. My wife left me and took our children with her. I couldn't blame her or protest against the loss of my children, for I was wrong and she was right. My wife wrong and she was right. My wife died soon afterward. I am now 50 years old and for the second time have put my neck into a noose. I have fallen for a young 25-year-old girl who is beautiful and good. She is also in love with me and I am tormented with the thought that I have no right, being what I am to have no right, being what I am, to ask her t marry me. On the other hand, since I know that she loves me and that I love her. I have the thought that it is up to me to give her the opportunity to refuse marry me, which she will never do, as I well know. The only thing that I have to boast about is a true respect for innocency and a hunger for a decent, clean love to fill the remaining years of my life. Like every other man that has been indecent and has been brought face to face with a good woman that loves him, I am repentant of my past dere ctions and filled with desire to right about face and be decent. Have I any right to marry this girl?

On the other hand, love is the great purifier. It can do for the heart and mind of a man what a chlorinating plant does for river water: clarifies it, purifies it, and makes it fit for man's consumption. Love has great expulsive power, too. It can, as you have dis-covered, drive out besetting sins, push tor.nenting, memories into the back-groun from which they emerge only groun from which they emerge only occasionally to accuse the victim.

No man is irretrievably lost to dency who can boast respect for innocency. No man is utterly degraded who retains the capacity for a pure affection. Any man that has ambition to do right and is re-pentant of past derelictions and is hungry for a decent, clean love has won the right to accept it when it

HENDRIX TRIAL OPENS IN DEATH OF ELLIS

Mrs. Lois Anderson Ordered Held as Material Witness.

Mrs. Lois Anderson, state's witness in the trial of Lee Hendrix, city sanitary officer, charged with the murder of J. H. Ellis June 26, was ordered held as a material witness to insure her apearance in court this morning when the trial, which opened Thursday, will be resumed. She is alleged to have been a companion of Ellis at the time of the shooting.

ant Solicitor John H. Hudson and Attorney H. A. Allen, while the defense is represented by Murphy Holloway and G. B. Walker.

Mrs. Anderson, said to have been with Ellis at the time of the shooting, when placed on the stand Thursday afternoon testified that Hendrix rushel out of a house with drawn gun and shot Ellis, who had his hands at his side at the time. Attorneys for the defense asked her if she had made a statement that she was going to get out of town to avoid testifying. Bunion is an internal derangement or deformity of the foot and is as irremovable as is congenital dislocation of the hip. It is futile to apply a remedy to the bunion and hope it will bring about a cure. The deformity consists in a devia tion of the great toe outward toward the other toes, and this unnatural position in time produces partial disand chronic inflammation of the bursa pad over the joint. In some cases this bursa becomes infected and suppurates.

Footwear that crowds the forefoot and forces the great toe out of its natural straight position causes bun-ion. The special faults to be avoided are pointed soles, short shoes, and shoes narrower across the ball of the foot than the bare foot is when bearing the weight of the body. An affecta-tion formerly taught but now regarded as ridiculous, that is, toeing out, probably contributed toward the development of bunion. Anyhow it is always best to toe in, if anything, at least to avoid toeing out in any circumstance. Toeing out favors not only bunion but pronation of the feet and falling of the arch.

The soreness or pain of bunion may be relieved by painting the awelling with tincture of iodin, but this should not be repeated in less than a week or more. When there is a lighting up of the inflammation apply large com-presses or thick folds of gauze (cheesepresses or thick folds of gauze (cheese-cloth) and keep these compresses moistened constantly with witch hazel alcohol or cologne water, all night.

Nothing but a radical operation will cure bunion. Usually the bursa is removed and a portion of the enlarged head of the metatarsal bone is trimmed off, the dislocation reduced, and the foot placed in a suitable and the foot placed in a suitable splint for two weeks. Such an operation does not effect the patient's

When walking, running, or playing

For protection uppers may be necessary, but it is best for the feet of child or adult to avoid all binding or support of the feet by footwear.

Cotton Price Increases Demonstrate Futility Of Enforced Stabilization

The present action of the cotton market in recently advancing 4 cents and the prospects of better prices due to the realization that the present crop promises to be the smallest in recent years, is certainly the stronger proof against the futility of enforced stabilization of prices. Last year the farm board attempted to stabilize the price of cotton in con-nection with other farm products. They pegged cotton twice, but each time it was unavailing, and their mis-guided efforts coupled with the announcement of their plan to throw some of their stocks on the market, brought the lowest prices known in generation.

The law of supply and demand is God-given and hence supreme, and no efforts of man can counteract it.

I am led to write you because The Constitution has so ably and constantly been the champion of the farmers and this year and last year loudly voiced the fallacy of the farm board's

RESIGNATION RAPS ROOSEVELT HAS

Who Has Met a Few Bad Ones

By Robert Quillen

One evening years ago I sat in front of a hotel in south Georgia listening to the after-dinner conversation of the Confederate gentry.

No ladies being present, their sex as usual became the subject of debate and as usual led to conflict. An ill-favored youth who seemed out of his element held the floor for some minutes and finished by saying: "All girls will fall when the right man comes along."

A lean young man who had taken no part in the conversation turned in his chair and said coidly: "That's a lie."

The youth who had given offense got quickly to his feet, as the code demanded, and declared hotly that he wouldn't take that off of mobody.

The other young man did not stir. "I'm afraid you'll have to take it, it," he drawled contemptuously. "Your remark covered too much territory. If all the girls you, know are like that, it simply means that you have no opportunity to associate with the other kind.

Times and customs have changed since then, but that bit of truth remains true today. Our opinions are absorbed from environment and experience.

The ordinary man is a provincial, whether he lives in a village or a metropolis. His vanity makes people of other regions seem inferior to those who share his environment, but with that exception he judges the race by the few specimens he knows.

If he never has witnessed cruelty, the worst of men seem kind at heart. If he has no experience of honor, the best of men are secret rogues wholly unworthy of trust.

You will hear men say that chastity is a thing of the past—that all smodern girls, though perhaps careful to preserve the semblance of virtue, are nevertheless amateur sisters of Jezebel.

Despite declarations of fairness, he has been studiously un-fair. He has acted as a proseculor. fair. He has acted as a prosecutor, although the law requires that he be coldly neutral to both accuser and accused and that he be an impartial judge. He has engaged in a cornered, futile cross-examination of my witnesses. He has exhibited discomfiture and displeasure as the un-proven charges have been disproved under his eyes by uncontradicted testimony. The burden of proof of my innocence has been cast upon me by the governor's unlawful procedure.

The theme of "Hold 'Em Jail" resolves around the activity of two supposed athletes who are captured by the scouts for dear old Bidemore prison and who immediately begin the establishment of necessary reforms in the prison. Their first effort is to improve the football team. In order that no effort be spared to bring out the laughs the producers surrounded Wheeler and Woolsey with an exceptional class of humor specialists. Edna May Oliver, the woman with the sniffs, plays an important role. Roscoe Ates, the stuttering comic, is the quarterback on the Bidemore team. Edgar Kennedy is another of the funsters and Betty Grable supplies the love interest with Wheeler.

OAK MOUNTAIN SPRINGS, Ga., Sept. 1.—(By Mail.) We were just sitting around waiting until time to go swimming when a little colored boy came up to the cottage with some arrow heads he had found in a cotton field near by. They were for sale.

A typewriter, which was sitting on a table on the screened porch, attracted his attention. It was, it developed, the first one he had seen. This suggested a line of questioning. Since the boy had not seen a typewriter before, it was barely possible that he had never read of those heroes created by the tapping of typewriter keys-the heroes of baseball and football and the ring. "Boy," said I, "have you ever heard of Jack Sharkey, the champion of the world?"

"Well, what about the Yankees? Don't you think they'll win?"

"Shucks, I knows youer teasin' me now. De Yankees done win long time ago. I done heerd grandpap tell 'bout 'em. Some er dem Yankees done march right thoo Georgia inter de sea, ain't dey? a pennant for Chicago?"
"You means ole man Jack Grimm, don't you? De mule trader? An' w'at he doin' foolin' aroun' wid cubs? Mighty good mule man, my paw says. An' w'en he done move up yonder wid de Chicago folks? You all sho' got a lot er things mixed up. Co'se you ain't been here long ernuff to git all de names straight. I reckon I better be movin' on. GIRL SWIMMERS BUSY.

The girls are at last getting those bathing suits wet. Time was when bathing suits were worn on parade at the pools and beaches. But no more.

The Georgia girls are in the lakes and pools swimming—trying to do the crawl stroke and the flutter kick; trying to synchronize breathing with the stroke.

Louisa Robert, the Atlanta girl who made the Olympic team, is responsible. Her swimming victories, including the national junior championship, attracted unusual attention throughout Georgia. And when she made the Olympic team the attention was doubled. The fact that an appendicitis operation put her out of the competition on the day the Olympic games began, did not detract from the attention given the games.

It would be a splendid thing for the Atlanta Athleiche Club if some time before the next season begins it letic Club if some time before the next season begins it would institute a sort of swimming clinic with demonstrations by Miss Robert and other swimmers of ability in Atlanta. Invitations could be sent state-wide and no doubt a large number of girl swimmers with ambitions to become good ones would attend the lessons. Because, the girls are getting their bathing suits into the water now and trying to learn enough strokes to be ready for the Olympic games competition four years hence. And there are all too few swimming teachers in Georgia.

THEY LIKE THE CHICKS.

Outside Atlanta one finds a surprising amount of sympathy for the Memphis Chickasaws in the Southern association pennant race. Atlantans, with the exception of the Atlanta club, which detests the Lookouts heartily, seem to favor the Chat-

But out in the highways and byways the sympathy goes to Memphis. The feeling seems to be that Memphis is making a lone fight against a club which is being supplied with all its needs by the Washington club. Which, of course, is true. The average citizen seems to regard this as an unfair situation and is cheering for the Chicks to win.

There is a surprising amount of interest manifested in baseball. Golf may be the national game in the cities. It has succeeded in cutting down attendance at baseball games. But baseball is the game generally discussed and followed. It is more than passing unfortunate that Atlanta has been so handicapped in baseball and cannot show just how many fans there are in that fine baseball city.

PLENTY OF BIRDS.

Reports have it that there will be plenty of birds for hunters this fall, although the first hunts may not so indicate.

This section, which is down in the bird-hunting territory, reports that because of the frequent rains during the summer, that the birds have had plenty of water. Food, too, was plentiful. The experts, however, report that the quail hatched late this summer. Their numbers, however, are plentiful.

Doves are expected in the-usual large numbers. The curious thing about dove hunting is that one often encounters large sections where hunters will not molest doves, some sort of tradition about bad luck following the shooters being assigned

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(P)—"General" Alvin Crowder pitched Washington to a 6-to-2 victory over the Yankees today and showed the league leaders the nearest thing to a shutout they have seen all season.

Crowder gave only six hits and didn't allow a run until one was out in the ninth. The Yanks came through then on Charlie Ruffing's pinch single, giving them a record of 131 games without having been blanked.

Their mark is only one short of the all-time major league record, set jointly by the Boston Nationals and the Phillies in 1894, when they each went through a 132-game season without a shutout and two over the Yanks' own

Coach Mehre's preseason football comment of "we will have eleven men on the team" has not changed one whit since July excepting that he has now modified it to read, "we will have eleven boys on the team."

If the season doesn't hurry up and get here, Coach Mehre might even reduce the number of men on a football team, thereby challenging the audacity of even the rule changers.

75 Candidates, Freshmen and Varsity, Respond to Opening Drill; Ray Walker Missing.

By Jack Troy.

Harry Robertson, the baron of Buckhead, is in pretty good humor oday. He's not the same man who, a month or so ago, seemed to be sitting on a hot stove.

For there were 75-odd candidates, including the freshmen, out for Oglethorpe's opening football practice of the season Thursday afternoon and all the boys haven't checked in yet.

The main thing to Robertson, however, is the fact that a new football season has started. Between seasons he is very forlorn indeed. He may even forget the loss of Paul Goldsmith, Parker Bryant, Dapper Myers,

Lefty Sypert, Frank Anderson Jr. and Claud Herron. There was a lot of activity on Hermance field vesterday. The boys

SEEDED STARS IN SEMI-FINALS

Men's Singles Semi-Finals Saturday; Women Play Today.

Four seeded stars advanced to the semi-finals of the seventh annual Cot-ton States tennis tournaments with well-earned quarter-final victories Thursday on the Atlanta Tennis Club courts. Billy Reese, Georgia and Atlanta champion, defeated Murray Calhoun, 6-1, 6-1, in straight sets. Malon Courts beat Tom Tumlin, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2, Courts beat Tom Tumlin, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2, Jack Simpson eliminated George Boynton, 6-4, 6-2, and Jimmy Halverstadt defeated Lem Bracewell, 6-3, 6-1.

Semi-finals in the men's singles have been moved up to Saturday afternoon with the semi-final doubles slated for this afternoon. The women's single and doubles also will be played this afternoon, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

In the quarter-finals Thursday it was a case of youth vs. experience in a majority of the cases. Both Reese and Calhoun are youngsters, but Reese has had more playing experience and had little trouble in winning. Tom Tumlin, winner of the 1931 Atlanta junior title, fought hard but could not match the cool, steady play of Maion Courts. George Boynton, another of the young threats, was eliminated by Jack Simpson and Lem Braczwell, the University of Georgia star was beaten by Jimmy Halverplayers and it was easily the best match of the women's play thus far.

A small admission, to cover the cost of the balls and other necessary expenses, will be charged today and Saturday.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 1 .- Captain Francis Ouimet, of the United States Walker cup team, can now be known as the official thorn in the side and paw of the British lion.

Nineteen years ago as a kid of 20 he rolled back the combined attack of Vardon and Ray in a match on this historic Brookline course. Nineteen years later this same Francis Ouimet heads a team made up largely of kids around the age that brought him his first glory and carries them to a sweeping victory in the first day's play of the Walker cup matches.

Captain Ouimet's team won all four foursome matches today and there was hardly a contest left on the menu when the count was in. The United States side was 25 holes up. The closest battle of the sticky, sultry day was 5 and 4, turned in by Billy Howell, of Virginia, and Don Moe, of Oregon, against Eric McRuvie and Eric Fiddian.

Moe, of Orgon, against Eric McRuvie and Eric Fiddian.

Here are the returns as they happened to take place:

Seaver and Moreland upset Torrance and De Forest, 6 and 5.

Moe and howell won from Fiddian and McRuvie, 5 and 4.

There is little use in going turther into the morbid details so far as Great Britain, the challenger, is concerned. The British side was outclassed by a range of golf that swung from Oregon to Virginia, from Texas to New York.

Output New York and Was tied at 1-1 in a battle with Rube Walberg. But at that point he tossed home run balls to Al Simmons and Bing Miller, with a man on base each time, and the four runs were just enough to decide the game.

This first Walker dup test was a bitter blow to the land that gave golf to the world. You would almost sense the fact that most of the British team had a deep grievance against that Scottish shepherd who first walloped around a pebble with his shepherd's crook and started one of the greatest of all human frenzies—the frenzy of the sliced drive—of the heel print in the sand—of the out-of-bounds—of the smothered hooks —the frenzy of trying to look at the ball—of the short missed putt—of the shanked mashie and the topped brassie.

But it must be remembered that golf is a great game, because it is full of suffering and sorrow—because anguish and woe accompany its programs around the course.

AS A'S WIN, 5-4 British Walker Cup Team Swept Aside in First Day's Play at Brookline.

Associated Press Sports Editor.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The freshmen of American amateur golf came through with flying colors today in their first test under international fire, with the result the United States routed Great Britain's challengers in all four of the 36-hole Scotch foursome making up the first day's engagement of the Walker cup battle.

Picking up the thread of victory where the old guard left off in a com-petition in which the United States never has been defeated, the American youngsters shouldered their assignments like veterans. From start to finish the result never was in doubt and there were no competitive thrills outside of one flashing rally put on in vain by the British Juveniles, 22-year-old Eric McRuvie and Eric Fiddian, in a sensational match with the American "pony team," Don Moe, of Oregon, and Billy Howell, of Virginia.

Howell and Moe, in the final match of the day, stopped their rivals, and Moe, in the final match of the day, stopped their rivals, and 4, with a rally of their own on the homeward nine, after a lapse in which the American boys dropped five out of six successive holes.

Shows Storming Gallery How Champions Play Golf in P. G. A.

By Paul Mickelson,

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 1.—(P)—Tom Creavy showed a storming St. Paul gallery today just why he was champion of American professional golf as the battle to dethrone him charged into the quarter-final salient. charged into the quarter-final salient.

Caught in the maeistrom of upsets that has thrust aside almost every early favorite in its mad sweep, the campaigner from Albany, N. Y., proved his class and stuck in the battle. He came back from almost certain defeat to repulse Johnny Perelli, a star member of the dark-horse brigade from San Francisco, one up. One down at noon and two down and three to go in the 36-hole struggle, he rushed back two birdies and a par to win, circling the Keller course with a rousing medal card of 69 on the final round that kept the crown on his brow for at least another day.

crown on his brow for at least another day.

Creavy was joined by another set of favorites, including Olin Dutra, of Santa Monica, Cal.; Bobby Cruick-slank, wee Scot from New York, and Big Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del. However, John Golden, veteran from Noroton, Conn., who defeated Walter Hagen in a record-breaking match of 43 holes yesterday, was numbered among the upset victims of the day.

Golden met and lost to the surprising Al Collins, of Kansas City, in a desperate struggle that saw both players slipping fast in the stretch with Collins winning the fight on the 36th green as his ball kissed off a partial stymic for a birdie four.

It was Dudley, who with Creavy represented the only two qualifiers of the 1931 national professional championship show still left in the present struggle, who turned in the biggest margin of victory today. Tour-at noon and then cleaned up with an other rush of par-breaking golf with a 33 out in the afternoon, winning in a waitz, 10 and 9.

Over his required route, he had 14 one-putt greens and never was headed.

Dutra, probably the hottest favorite in the championship field tonight not even excluding Creavy, won by earth. even excluding Creavy, won by another lopsided margin. 5 and 3, but he was given a great fight by Reggie Myles, the tiny Scot from Ashland, GREAT 67. The Pacific coast husky staggered Myles with a great 67 ou the morning round to go seven up and every one forgot about the match until one forgot about the match until word spread that the Scot was coming back. Myles, putting prettily while Dutra was missing irou shots and putting weakly, cut his lead to four after the first six holes of the afternoon. But the odds were too great and Dutra clinched the match easily after that.

Chuickshank, none too strong after his valiant fromphack vesterily to his valiant comeback yesterday to beat Al Watrous, of Detroit, entered the quarter finals by eliminating Vincent Eldred, of Pittsburgh, 3 and 1. That match, too, was closer than it looked.

It was a battle of stymies. Four in the morning round and four more in the afternoon front nine, decided the struggle. Chuickshank forged ahead as Eldred missed short, heart-

WALSH COASTS IN.

Frank Walsh, of Chicago, back in the golf wars after a serious accident, coasted in. He carved out a 71, one under par, to lead five up at noon over Gene Kunes, Hartford, Conn., and broke par by two shots in the afternoon to end the uneven battle on the twenty-eighth hole, 9 and 8.

HIT HOME RUNS

Over Detroit.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—(P)—A brace of home runs in the sixth inning brought about the downfall of young Tommy Bridges today and gave the Athletics a 5-to-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The A's won the series, three games to two.

Up to the sixth, Bridges pitched great ball and was tied at 1-1 in a battle with Rube Walberg. But at that point he tossed home run balls to Al Simmons and Bing Miller, with a man on base each time, and the four runs were just enough to decide the game.

with gains that generally ranged from fractions to about 3 points.

Commodities were a bit uncertain. Cotton moved rather eccentrically, although its fluctuations were relatively small. Coffee rallied briskly, but was off slightly. Selling diminished in the bond market and prices picked up toward the finish, with rail liens particularly prominent.

Stocks had to contend against considerable pre-holiday realizing; nevertheless, the market remained in strong hands and there was enough professional interest in carriers and some specialties to provide a background for higher prices. Quotations cased a little at the opening, mended slowly, met profit-taking and then closed strongly, rounding out their best performance of the week. Transactions totaled 2,428,948 shares.

Westinghouse Electric, United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide and a few other industrials gave evidence of pool support, while some of the light and power issues were still under the influence of last week's pick-up in _electricity output. Miscellaneous stocks up from a fraction to a point included American Telephone, American Tobacco "B," Loew's, United States Steel common, General Electric, Bethlehem common and American Smelting. Metal issues on the whole were little affected by another advance in domestic copper prices.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The market advanced to net gains of 11 to 13 points in the early trading today in response to relatively firm cables and uneasiness over the tropical disturbance on the southeast guif coast. The trade, Diverpool, Wall Street and local professionals were among the principal buyers. On this bulge, however, there was heavy selling by wire houses, New Orleans, the continent and houses with far eastern connections under which prices declined about 25 points. Trade interests absorbed most of the contracts on this setback and, under covering or rebuying, plus outside support, the market recovered almost to the early highs. In the late trading, however, the increased hedge selling and liquidation by local longs carried prices back to about the lowest of the session.

We look for further irregularity but believe cotton bought on setbacks will show quite satisfactory profits. FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The market was dull in the forenoon and at the start a little reactionary though soon recovering a firm range. In the afternoon the rails were the feature, with strength in almost all the railroad issues. Many of these stocks had reacted in the long decline to practically a receivership basis and now there seems to be a desire to get stocks of this class back on the belief that the support of the railroad finance corporation and the Reconstruction Corporation will tide these companies over the critical time of the present year when their earnings are very low and when a revival of traffic will not be

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The outstanding strength in the rails today and the refusal of the industrials to follow their leadership provided an inconsistency which has been unusual in recent markets and reflects growing tendency toward caution on the part of market operators both large and small.

Today's close contained the suggestion of some further raily in tomorrow's session but circumstances, in our opinion, now call for an increased degree of caution against the possibility, however small, of disappointment in near term business reports.

BEER & CO.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—There was no real weakness anywhere in the market today and the rails were in heavy demand, rising to new highs on the present recovery in the case of most of the important issues. Some so the less prominent rail stocks have been the spectacular features of the market on the advance in recent days and there are more in a position to make striking gains.

With the fall season at hand, store stocks should do better.

NEW YORK. Sept. 1.—Both stocks and bonds were uninteresting until buying started in the rails late in the assion. There has been nothing in the news to account for the special strength in the rail issues in the last two sessions, though we have not been without rumors. It is reported for one thing that the eastern trunk line consolidation is much nearer than generally supposed, also New York Central has been buying Lacka-will soon be taken to obtain another was rediction.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Today's was a dull and featureless market, dragging lower under the weight of Canadian hedges, in the face of the encouragement of a stronger stock market and moderately bullish private crop reports. The latter ranged from 251.000,000 to 271.000,000 spring wheat averaging 265.000,000, showing a reduction of 8,000,000 from last month and the three Canadian estimates averages 435,000,000, although a Winnipeg elevator concern issued an estimate of 478,000,000. Liverpool just about followed our decline of Wednesday and Broomhall noted a slowing up in the demand because of anticipation of increased Canadian offerings.

We continue to feel that weak spots should be utilised to accumulate wheat for long time speculative investment.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(P)—The curb market pursued a rather puzzling course today but wound up strongly. Stocks displayed a firm undertone even in earlier periods of selling. Transactions totaled 400.000 shares against 579,300 yesterday. Specialties moved to the forefront of public interest. A. O. Smith rallied 5 points. Aluminum Company was up 3 1-2.

Electric Bond & Share was strong at the close. The stock pulled up to a closing price of 41 3-4, however, registering a net gain of 2 3-8 points. In sympathy with the strong buying of rails on the stock exchange, Pennroad moved fractionally higher while the inactive Western Maryland 1st preferred issue shot up to a new 1932 high at 49, up 22 points.

The oils were somewhat erratic, Gulf reacting more than a point and the Standard issues holding steadily. Mining shares were under moderate pressure.

Daily Bond Averages.

BY VICTOR EUBANK. NEW YORK, Sept. 1 .- (4)-The railroads put on a few extra pounds of steam today with the result the bond market was able to show a fractional gain for the first time this cipally to the speculative transporta-tion group. The utilities and industrials were somewhat irregular and value, and the average for 60 corporate issues was up one-tenth of a point. While the average for 20 selected rails gained seven-tenths of a point, that for the same number of industrials was off three-tenths and for the utilities, two-tenths.

A generally quiet market had been expected, as a number of traders and investors stepped aside for the Labor Day recess. There was no especially constructive transportation news.

There was a moderate improvement in electric power output and comvalue, and the average for 60 cor-gains.

The principal railroad gainers of the session included some loans of Allegheny Corporation, Baltimore & Ohio, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Southern.

Both the United States and foreign government, departments, were quiet.

ther bulge in the railroad shares that carrick many of them to new high levels for this year.

In view of the poor carnings of the common carriers the current strength of the transportation shares would seem to be unusual, but buying in that group is based largely on the belief that the trend of car loadings has changed for the better.

Reports are that the weekly figures for car loadings to be published Saturday will show an increase of about 25,000 cars. This would be better than a seasonal improvement.

25,000 cars. This would be better than a seasonal improvement.

Another significant and encouraging development was the resumption of the upward movement in bonds which for the last week have been showing a reactionary tendency.

A number of speculators who have been prominent on the buying side of Lackawanna were active today in Atlantic Coast Line and Louisville & Nashville, both of which showed marked strength and activity.

A better showing was made by the steel stocks and some big speculators are absorbing those issues in anticipation of a big increase in the unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation, the figures on which will be announced September, 10. Estimates of the increase in the corporation's unfilled business run all the way from 200,000 to 700,000 tons.

SLOWS UP BUSINESS

MANCHESTER, Eng., Sept. 1.—

(P)—The Lancashire textile strike is interfering with business it was revealed today, cotton market transactions having slumped because producers were unwilling to concede the "strike clause" which buyers demand in their contracts.

Interest here centered today in a meeting of the general board of the northern countries' textile trades federation and the wages committee of the master spinners federation. The spinners will discuss employers demands for a 10 per cent wage reduction in the spinning section of the industry.

Winston - Salem Journal Says Autopsy Performwhich are exported from the United States, include cotton, yarn, linen and jute fabrics, chrome nickel wire and certain chemicals.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Sept. I.—(P)—The Winston-Salem Journal says it has learned from authoritative sources that the body of Smith Reynolds, who was fatally wounded at his home here July 6, was exhumed August 23 and an autopsy performed. The paper says the exhumation was ordered by Solicitor Carlisle Higgins and Assistant Solicitor J. Erle Mc-Michael, and that four physicians were directed to make the autopsy. Reynolds' widow, Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway blues singer, and his 19-year-old chum, Albert (Ab) Walker, of Winston-Salem, are under murder indictments in connection with his death. They are free in $25,000 bond each.

The date of the disinterment was the day on which R. J. Reynolds Jr., elder brother of Smith, arrived in Winston-Salem after a six-week journey from the coast of Africa, where he was cruising at the time of the tragedy, but the Journal says he did not see the body.

Authorities declined tonight to discuss the results of the autopsy. The Journal says, however, it ascertaind that the bullet entered the right temple from close range and came out behind the left ear after following a downward course.

No autopsy was performed before the burial of the young heir to an estimated $15,000,000 off the fortune left by his father, R. J. Reynolds, the tobacco magnate.

Young Reynolds was found fatally to the part of the company. The went abroad in June with Mrs. Johnson, who had been his nurse in a critical illness.

Funeral services will be held September 8 at Renardsville.

timated $15,000,000 of the fortune left by his father, R. J. Reynolds, the tobacco magnate.

Young Reynolds was found fatally wounded on a sleeping porch at Reynolds, the family estate, shortly after dispersal of a gay birthday party. An original finding of suicide was made by Coroner W. N. Dalton, but an inques was later ordered.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Reynolds came to his death at the hands of parties unknown, and August 4 his widow and Walker were indicted.

Both testified at the inquest that he had threatened to take his own life.

The twenty-first annual interstate fiddlers' convention will begin at 7 o'clock tonight at the City Auditorium, and indications that it will be the biggest and best held here in recent years were seen Thursday by Professor Alec Smart, who will be the master of ceremonies. Prizes are offered to the best old-time fiddler and to the best barnyard band. There have been many entries, it was said.

Old-time favorite fiddlers from all parts of the southeast will play at the convention. A matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and a barn dance will be the feature of the Saturday night program. Confederate veterans and their wives will be admitted free, Professor Smart stated.

Comely Mrs. Pollak Freed by Verdict of Judge in Juryless Murder Trial.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 .- (A)-Dorothy Pollak won her freedom today from lame for the killing of her husband. Judge Harry M. Fisher accepted her story that despite Joe Pollak's threats and beatings and unfaithfulness she loved him, then shot him dead as he rushed at her, knife in Above you see Mrs. U. R. Schott presenting Mr. Schott, her husband, with the last Schott. His name is B. B. The Schotts have been blessed by many visits from the stork. In fact, some of their neighbors say that the stork made his home with the Schotts for years.

These proud parents have 11 more boys and one daughter. Such a family is in itself unusual, but the peculiar thing about them is that each member of the Schott family looks like his name.

You have probably noticed that quite often a policeman looks like a policeman whether he is on duty or not. And almost invariably a lawyer looks like nothing else but a lawyer. So it is with the Schotts. You would know as soon as you saw this little fellow that was Pot Schott.

Her trial for the killing of Joe Pollak in their home July 27 had taken less than three days. The state had been rebuffed in attempts to present a Filipino alleged to have been a former husband of the defendance where the stified Pollak was her only mate—and failed to find Symon Mysza, the widow's father, wanted as a state witness.

Mysza, the widow's father, wanted as a state witness.

From their marriage in 1929 Joe beat and kicked her, the brunette related, and threatened to "cut her heart out"—but through it all she loved him.

Immediately after the shooting Mrs. Pollak had telephoned the police, signed a confession of the killing, begged to be allowed to attend the funeral and then tried to throw herself upon her husband's grave as the casket, blanketed with flowers she had sent, was lowered.
